Personalisering

Hva er personalisering?

Personalisering er praksisen med å bruke det du vet om målgruppen til å tilpasse innhold, layout, design og meldinger i brukeropplevelsen ofte på en måte som kan bidra til å forene budskapet på tvers av kanaler.

Personalisering blir mer avansert

Personaliserings-skalaen

One to All

Static campaigns and content.

Ads, landing pages, shopping experience, remarketing efforts are all static.

Every user sees the same experience.

Cost of content and return on ad investment is known only across the board.

No attribution.

One to Many

Rules-based campaigns and content.

Landing pages reflect ad messaging

On-site content targeted based on basic user profiles and affinity

Basic conversion measurement provides basic attribution.

Basic data-driven marketing decisions.

One to Some

Segment-based campaigns and content.

Selling through multiple sites, channels, geos

Offers aligned to segments

Campaigns targeted at personas and audiences

Unified analytics for data-driven decision making

One to Few

Predictive campaigns and content.

Unique experiences for each channel and audience.

Real-time promotion & pricing optimization based on customer insights

Consistently test, iterate, and improve to optimize conversion rates

Agile, iterative, and test-and-learn approach across the organization.

One to One

Realtime, proactive, prescriptive campaigns and content.

Unique journey for every customer based on behavioral insights and intent indicators

Advanced integrations and artificial intelligence automate and expand ability to segment, target, optimize, and remarket.

Data informs and optimizes media spend, content, audience decisions in an automated and intelligent feedback loop.
